The cotton market had to endure another drop shot yesterday. Liverpool feil to six-pence, and deliveries were down. Elsewhere quotations were unchanged, but "weak" and dull" were the common expressions used to define the tone of the market. Our market call a partial recovery took place. Coal stocks and Western Union were unsettled in "very nominal." There was little inquiry, and the total "sales" were all due to one buyor's efforts. We publish this morning the July report of the cotton exchange. It is pre-pared with the care and thoroughness that pared with the care and thoroughness that distinguishes all Mr. Gates does, and is one distinguishes all Mr. Gates does, and is one of the most interesting reports the exchange has made. The comparative rainfall and etfects of the rains of June and July on the crop are matters of importance. The New York Paulitin, or Tuesday, reports: "For sports there was no demand from exporters, possibly, in part due to the absence of cable advices, and the wants of spinners were also rather moderate and indifferently displayed. This general indifference among buyers, and a pretty full offering of stocks naturally had a weakening influence, through which \( \frac{1}{2} \) cos and Essex to 70, and Panama and portion took place on quotations, with the tome a little unsettled. Early in the day a portion of the trade appeared to think cotton rather cheap and brought out demand enough to influe temporary out demand enough to influe temporary out demand enough to influe temporary of the companies had each appointed a committee to confer on the existing situation and see in anything could be done in some instances, especially in the day western shares, including grangers stocks. New York Central rose to $2\frac{1}{2} \) cost of $2\frac{ tone a little unsettled. out demand enough to infuse temporary strength and put cost up a few points. The demand, however, was not equal to the offering, and under pressure rates began to go off, and fell rather heavily until they reached a lower point than on Saturday. The business has been conlined, as usual, to the mear-by options largely, but September in the main, on which the unloading and selling was free. It is noticeable, however, that from one or two sources comes a quiet but steady demand, which absorbs a large amount of the offering for this month and next."

We have mentioned the July report of the colton exchange above; we learn officially that it results from the facts there stated that the crop is ten per cent, below what it was last year at this time, Yesterday, Day Before.

So large an outflow at so early a period of the season is difficult of explanation. The payment for the one million gold sold by the treasury cannot be appealed to even for a partial accounting for this outflow, be-cause that was ma'e on the last day, and the loss would scarcely effect the average of the mix days." The New York Times observes: "The money market during the week afforded unmistakable evidence of a hardening tendency, and the impression very generally pre-vailed that high rates of interest will obtain in the near future, especially if the revival in Arrangements have been made for the manufacture of Bands of superior quality and in sufficient quantity to supply any demand, and for the present the price will be $2.50 per bundle, of thirty Bands each.

The recent reduction in the price of ties was probably due to the competition of the GRIP-TIE, and as we offer a superior article at the same price, we trust dealers and consumers will recognize our claim to a fair share of patronage.
